1. Moen: Fusion Finish Series Faucets

Space 135

Moen is slowly rolling out its new Fusion series, which applies a dual-tone finish to the brand's STō pull-down kitchen and Via bathroom faucets, in keeping with the recent trend of mixed metals and finishes in the kitchen and bath markets. To start, the manufacturer has combined matte black and chrome for a sleek, modern appearance. Additional mixed-metal and -finish palettes are set to be introduced at later dates.

2. Dacor: 24-Inch Full Size Wine Cellar

Space 142

Dacor's fully integrated wine cellar holds up to 100 bottles of wine in three independently cooled zones, stored behind a triple layer of glass filled with argon gas to protect the collection from UV and IR rays. With a sleek design, the full-sized wine cellar comes panel-ready for graphite, stainless steel, or custom panels, with the option for a handle-free, push-to-open door. The cellar also has four sensors designed to perfectly control the humidity.

3. GRAFF: Harley Faucet Collection

Space 103

This faucet was derived from the stylings of classic motorcycles, fusing an industrial aesthetic with detail work nostalgic of the all-American icons. The collection includes one-, two-, or three-hole versions of the sink, bathtub and bidet; wall, floor or deck-mounted models; and a linear lever option. There is also a two-hole faucet option, ideal for narrow spaces.
