14. UNDER THE VOLCANO
Pyrolave's custom sinks are made with lava stone extracted from volcanic craters in France's Auvergne region. The hard, dense stone can be shaped into nearly any configuration without seams or joints. Coated with durable enamel in one of 16 matte or 16 glossy colors, the finish delicately crazes during cooling for a one-of-a-kind result. Pyrolave, U.S.A. 919.788.8953. www.pyrolave.com.

15. COLOR CODED
Designed by Davide Oppizzi of DCUBE, Ametis offers high-tech functionality within its striking curves. A built-in electronic system changes a colored ring at its handle base, depending on the water temperature. Finishes include powder-coated matte black, chrome, or white. Graff, 800.954.4723. www.graff-faucets.com.

16. SPITTING IMAGE
Spit cooking goes all the way back to medieval times, but La Cornue's Flamberge Centenaire rotisserie oven replicates the method in a way that's both faithful to tradition and up to code, with a cast-iron oven chamber, gas burners, and a porcelain drip tray. Because the oven is built-in, no additional ventilation is needed. Thirty colors are available for the body, with nine options in metal trims. La Cornue USA, 800.457.1356. www.lacornueusa.com.

17. SLEEK SOAKER
The Palomba Collection, designed by Ludovica and Roberto Palomba, includes the freestanding solid-surface bathtub. Measuring 72.3 inches long, 37.82 inches wide, and 35.46 inches tall, its sensuous, organic shape reflects the Palomba design philosophy of creating a "fingerprint of nature." Laufen, 866.696.2493. www.us.laufen.com.

18. FLOOR TO CEILING
Poggenpohl's +Artesio, designed in collaboration with architect and designer Hadi Teherani, integrates walls, floor and ceiling into a cohesive unit that reflects the Bauhaus philosophy of form following function. The base of the kitchen is a design grid that brings together the wall panel and base unit in a horizontally linear arrangement. The arch houses systems for lighting, ventilation and sound. Poggenpohl, 973-812-8900. www.poggenpohl.com.

19. IN THE HOOD
The Monsoon DCBL is a one-piece vent liner infused with DCBL Suppression System Technology that ensures quiet operation and energy efficiency. Other features include an ADA compliant wireless remote control, five-speed electronic LCD controls, and the ability to duct horizontally or vertically. It fits specifications of other manufacturers, enabling installation in existing spaces. Zephyr, 888.880.8368. www.zephyronline.com.
