10) Haiku Ceiling Fan

Unlike traditional ceiling fans, which are designed primarily to maximize performance, the Haiku ceiling fan from Big Ass Fans offers both performance and beauty. Made from sustainable Moso bamboo, the fan's airfoils seamlessly blend with the central motor, resulting in a smooth, stylistic aesthetic. Haiku measures 60 inches in diameter and comes in Caramel or Cocoa Bamboo, or Matrix Composite in black or white.

11) Through-wall Fan from ComfortGeni

The ComfortGeni model Geni 6x is an easy-to-install through-wall fan that increases airflow from room to room or level to level, enabling consumers to enjoy the warmth from their fireplace or pellet stove in any room. Engineered to increase the area that wood, pellet, and gas appliances heat, the ComfortGeni uses no more electricity than a 14-watt light bulb and costs less than $5 a year to operate. ComfortGeni can also be used to enhance a home's existing HVAC system. When used as a register booster fan, the three-speed fan improves the central heating and cooling in that room.

12) Delta Cassidy Lavatory Faucet

Influenced by the classic shape of a female silhouette with cinched waist, the Delta Cassidy lavatory faucet brings versatility to tradition. It meets WaterSense requirements, flowing at a rate less than the industry standard of 2.2 gpm and providing up to 32-percent water savings. Available in three handle options—French curve, classic cross, and stately traditional lever—the faucet also comes in five finishes: Chrome, Stainless, Champagne Bronze, Venetian Bronze, and Polished Nickel.

13) Duravit Kiora Kitchen Sink

Designed by Sieger Design, Duravit's Kiora is a straight-lined kitchen sink with a 2-inch-wide frame around the sink that tapers inward to provide splash protection. The easy tilt of the drain board allows water to flow off plates, pots, and pans back into the sink. Available in surface-mounted and drop-in variations, the sink is reversible as a right- or left-handed bowl. Kiora comes in White, Pergamon, Chesnut, Anthracite Matte, and Black finishes.

15) Kohler Linwood Bathroom Faucet Collection

The Linwood bathroom faucet collection pays homage in a modern form to enduring traditions and elegant simplicity. Rooted in casual and comfortable design, its sculpted thick-to-thin proportions call to mind the artistry and quality of forged metal. The 4-inch centerset Linwood faucet comes with 21-inch supply lines attached, and the 8-inch widespread faucet comes with preassembled handles, making installation fast and convenient. The entire collection is available in Brushed Nickel, and the centerset faucet is also available in Oil-Rubbed Bronze.

16) Lutron Coulisserie Collection

Oriented on design and innovation, this collection of motorized window treatments includes more than 700 types of fabrics and materials for roller shades, honeycomb shades, pleated fabrics, and a variety of materials for Venetian blinds. It is based on an inspiration process in which the latest trends in homes and buildings, fashion designs, and classic patterns merge in shading and interior design. The collection is presented in four books, each representing a unique look and atmosphere.

17) Nuheat Floor Heating Cable

Floor heating system manufacturer Nuheat has introduced a redesigned free-form floor heating cable, Nuheat Cable, which offers some of the industry's largest sizes, covering up to 240 square feet using a single kit. The new system is 33-percent larger than the company's previous offering and can cover large spaces such as basements, hallways, and living rooms. Other improvements include patent-pending cable guide design and thinner factory splice.
